

DISTRICT ATTORNEY EARL TAYLOR
MEDIA RELEASE

June 13, 2008

50 Defendants Convicted of 55 Crimes

Every month, the St. Landry District Attorney's Office releases the names of felons who were either found guilty or not guilty at trial, or pled guilty of the charges brought against them. It is District Attorney Earl Taylor's policy not to engage in plea bargains. Consequently, the vast majority of pleas in St. Landry Parish are guilty as charged. In limited circumstances, such as the existence of evidentiary problems, or concern for the welfare of the victim, or at the request of the victim, plea agreements are considered.

The list below does not include the many convictions obtained by the District Attorney for misdemeanor offenses, simply because this list would be too long for publication. While misdemeanors are generally considered less serious crimes, they include some classes of battery, certain drug charges, domestic violence charges and theft. The District Attorney obtains many convictions for these crimes every month, under the same general no plea bargain policy as is applied to felonies.
